Bob Simpson Qualifies

For the A. A. U. Meet.

Bob Simpson, high hurdling champion of the world, put another race to his credit yesterday when he won the 120-yard hurdle event at the track carnival of the Athletic Club at St. Louis yesterday. The track was made slow by the rain and Bob did not exert himself, making the slow time of 15 2-5 seconds, nearly a second slower than his best time.

Schlenberg of Purdue was the closest man to the Tiger star, just seven yards behind. Simpson did not enter the other events because of the rain.

Bob has been training for the past few weeks for the national championship meet at Newark a week from next Saturday. There he will have much tighter competition, for the whole quartet of California stars, House, Kelly, Murray and Thompson, all 15 second men or better, will be on hand to try to defeat the Missouri idol.

Ralph Burdick of Chicago won the Missouri Valley championship tennis tournament last week, defeating Jack Cannon of Kansas City in the final match in straight sets. Burdick's overhead work was too much for Cannon, who had previously won from Walter Hayes, Burdick's doubles partner.

Joe Tinker, in a minor league, divided the work of taking the throw with the second baseman when a new catcher was making his first appearance. The opposing team was feeling him out and made several successful sprints for the bag. The newcomer got the ball away fast but high and the opposition made second with comparative ease. Each throw was higher and the final one was brought down by the second baseman only by a fine jumping catch.

At the end of the inning he sought the catcher and said:

"You're a nice young fellow and I hope you will do well. But I want to tip off something about this league—they slide, they don't fly."

Browns Don't Seem

To Have Much Chance.

The Browns, or any other American League team, will have a hard time to overtake the Red Sox between now and October—harder than the figures would seem to indicate. With only thirty-odd games to be played, the second-place team, Detroit, is five games behind, but in reality seven games, for the Bostonians have not played as many games as the other teams and will probably win those games, which are against Washington and the Athletics.

Fielder Jones' team, however, start their four-game series this afternoon at Fenway Park full of confidence and, if they can take four straight or even three out of four—an all but impossible task—they will be in a position to overtake the Red Sox during their western trip. To offset playing the last few weeks away from home, however, Carrigan's men will have the Senators and Athletics for opponents for the next week or two and have an excellent chance to pile up a bigger lead while the four Western clubs are cut-throating each others' chances. Anyway, it's a great race and we're pulling hard for the chance to see the World's Series this fall in St. Louis.

Miss Thelma Darby, an Indianapolis girl just 13 years of age, won the national half-mile swimming championship for women at St. Louis Saturday. Her nearest two opponents were each 16 years of age.

National League Race Is Also a Close One.

The National League race is much closer than most people seem to think. Although the Braves are two and a half games behind the Brooklyn, they have each lost the same number of games and the Boston bunch has an excellent chance to close up the gap in these extra games.

Robinson and Ebbetts are making desperate efforts to keep their lead. As is shown by the recent trade for Fred Merkle of the Giants. Daubert is out of the game—probably for the rest of the season—and the Superbas could not afford to have another hole in their infield—already weak at short. McCarty goes to the Giants as part payment. Merkle played his first game yesterday for the Brooklyn and his two hits helped smother the Reds.

Nick Carter, until recently the leading pitcher on the Indianapolis Association team, helped the Brooklynites yesterday, when he held the Braves to five hits, beating them, 5 to 1. Indianapolis continues to rise in the American Association race, however, despite the loss of Carter.
